Our School Vision

May our Rights Respecting School be a happy place for us all to learn; where every one of us is valued and safe in our Timothy Hackworth School Family. May we all be the best that we can be by making a positive difference to each other, our community in Shildon and the wider world in which we all live.

Mission Statement (written by children):

We would like our school, which reflects British Values, to be at the heart of the community, sharing, supporting and learning together with everyone as equals. Our children have the right to high quality learning experiences to help them to be the best that they can be.

We encourage our children to be creative, unique, open-minded and independent individuals, respectful of themselves and of others in our school, our local community and the wider world.

We aim to nurture our children on their journey through life so that they can grow into safe, caring, democratic, responsible and tolerant adults who make a positive difference to British Society and to the world.

For Timothy Hackworth Primary School

Equality Act 2010

Timothy Hackworth Primary School's Provision of the Public Sector Equality Duty

We, at Timothy Hackworth Primary School, are committed to equality. We aim for every pupil to fulfil their potential no matter what his or her background or personal circumstances.

We maintain the aim of embedding principles of fairness and equality across our entire curriculum, in assemblies and acts of collective worship, in break and lunchtimes, in pastoral support and in before and after school activities.

We must, under the general duty of public sector equality duty, in the exercise of our functions, have due regard to the need to:

- ✓ Eliminate discrimination, harassment, victimisation and any other conduct that is prohibited under the Act;
- ✓ Advance equality of opportunity between persons who share a relevant protected characteristic and persons who do not share it;
- ✓ Foster good relations between persons who share a relevant protected characteristic and persons who do not share it.

This will apply to all pupils, staff and others using the facilities. We will give relevant and proportionate consideration to the public sector equality duty.

The protected characteristics for the school's provisions are:

- Disability
- Gender reassignment
- Pregnancy and maternity
- Race
- Religion or belief
- Sex
- Sexual orientation
- Age
- Marriage and Civil Partnerships

Age, and marriage and civil partnership, are NOT protected characteristics for the school's provisions for pupils.

We will have due regard to advancing equality of opportunity including making serious consideration of the need to:

- remove or minimise disadvantages suffered by persons who share a relevant protected characteristic that are connected to that characteristic;
- take steps to meet the needs of persons who share a protected characteristic that are different from the needs of persons who do not share it;
- encourage persons who share a relevant protected characteristic to participate in public life, or, in any activity in which participation by such persons is disproportionately low.

We will take into account the six Brown principles of 'due regard':

- awareness – all staff know and understand what the law requires;
- timeliness – implications considered before they are implemented;
- rigour – open-minded and rigorous analysis, including parent/pupil voice;
- non-delegation – the PSED cannot be delegated;
- continuous – ongoing all academic year;
- record-keeping – keep notes and records of decisions & meetings.

We welcome the opportunity to be transparent and accountable. To this end we fulfil the specific duties of the Act by:

- ✓ publishing our equality information;
- ✓ publishing our equality objectives.

We aim to make the information accessible, easy to read and easy to find.

Equality Objectives

Our Equality Objectives are:

1. As a Rights Respecting School, we would like our whole school community to further develop and further build upon their knowledge and understanding of Article 30 on the Convention of the Rights of the Child:

‘Every child has the right to learn and use the language, customs and religion of their family, whether or not these are shared by the majority of the people in the country where they live.’

2. As a Rights Respecting School, we would like our whole school community to further develop and further build upon their knowledge and understanding of equality of opportunities in relation to gender and employment, supported by Article 29 on the Convention of the Rights of the Child:

‘Education must develop every child’s personality, talents and abilities to the full. It must encourage the child’s respect for human rights, as well as respect for their parents, their own and other cultures, and the environment.’

We will update our equality objectives every four years and publish them on our school website.

We will review progress on these objectives annually and this documentation will be held within school.

We adopt a whole school approach to equality and consider it important for pupils to learn about equality and human rights. We adhere to the Equality and Human Rights Commission (EHCR) statement:

‘To reap the full benefits of equality and human rights education, it is essential to teach topics in an environment which respects the rights and differences of both students and teachers. Without an equality and human rights culture within the classroom and school as a whole, learning about these topics can at best appear irrelevant, and at worst, hypocritical. The respect and tolerance it teaches will help staff and students create a healthier, happier, fairer school culture, and could lead to reductions in bullying and other negative behaviour, and improvements in attainment and aspirations.’

Though the Act refers to ‘race’, the use of ethnic/cultural origin, background or heritage is often more appropriate.
